47th Annual Reno Air Races Flyout

September 17-19, 2010

WHAT? The Reno Air Races, also known as the National Championship Air Races, take place each September at the Reno Stead Airport a few miles north of Reno, Nevada, USA. Air racing is billed as 'the world's fastest motor sport' and Reno is one of the few remaining venues.

The Reno Air Races include several days of qualifying followed by four and a half days of multi-aircraft heat racing culminating in the Unlimited Class Gold Race on Sunday afternoon. The event also features civil airshow acts and military flight demonstrations between races, plus vendor areas and a large civil and military static aircraft display

WHEN? The 47th annual Reno Air Races will be held September 15-19, 2010. This flyout is scheduled for the final race days, Friday thru Sunday, September 17-19th.

WHERE? We will fly to the Reno International airport (RNO), then transfer downtown to one of the sponsored hotels. The Races are held at Reno Stead Airport, and you will have a transportation pass that will enable you to travel between the hotel and the race venue at your leisure for the entire weekend.

WHO? This fly-out is designed for anyone interested in seeing this one-of-a-kind Air Race.

COST? The cost is $695 for two people. This price includes two nights lodging, weekend Race passes, all ground transportation between airport, hotel and race venue, plus the appropriate VFR charts.
